

Östergarn

- Where the sun raises

It might seem unfair to the rest of Gotland, but this is our own favourite part of the island. To us, this is paradise on earth.

We meet in Almedalen to board the coach that takes us to the east side of the island to the parish of Ardre. In Ardre we'll visit the medieval church, the lamb farmer who will tell us about his more than 300 ewes and how the Gotlandish farmers takes care of the countryside by traditional livestock farming. We'll also stop-by "Cousin Dan", the brew master of our traditional beverage, "Gotlandsdricken" which has been brewed for generations at Gotlandish farms, we will get a taste of both the beverages as well as some cock-and-bull stories. Dan is by the way the man behind all 'dricke' served on all our excursions.

At "Cousin Dan" we will be equipped with bikes and helmets and go for a guided bike ride along the stunning coastline countryside. We begin our trip at Ardre church where we cycle east along back roads until we get to the east coast and the Baltic Sea. Not only will we see and enjoy the views over the unbroken horizon, we'll also get to visit one of the islands most famous sea-stack fields.

When having taken in the sights we take our bikes and head south towards the village of Ljugarn where we will have a late lunch.

After lunch we board the bus again and head back to Visby and Almedalen.

Included in price is; guide (English speaking), coach, bike trailer, bike and helmet, visit to lamb farm, visit and tasting of dricke, coffee break and lunch (non-alcoholic beverage included).

Price: SEK 1045 per person incl. VAT

You make your reservation here <http://hansaincoming.com/excursions-for-nordic-lung-congress-2017/>, and payment is made when you book. You can cancel your reservation up until 31st of March, after that there are no refunds given.

